Why Columbus | Central Ohio

Premier Location in Ohio's Economic Engine: New Albany

New Albany is located in northeast Central Ohio and is the vision of The New Albany Company, which was founded by legendary Columbus businessmen Leslie Wexner and Jack Kessler in conjunction with the City of New Albany. As evidenced by Intel, the community is known for being a highly sought after location for large corporations and is currently home to many of the regions largest employers such as Abercrombie & Fitch, Discover Financial Services, State Farm Insurance, AEP Transmissions, iQor, Axiom Plastics, Meta, Aetna, Bob Evans Farms, Accell, EMH&T, Amazon, Google and Bath & Body Works. New Albany has become a technology hub attracting many major data centers by providing a high speed fiber optic network, triple feed electric capabilities and its technology.

Why Columbus

The Columbus Region is home to 17 Fortune 1000 companies and five Fortune 500 companies. Columbus is a national hub for retail and restaurant innovation with the headquarters of firms like Victoria's Secret, Express, Abercrombie & Fitch, Wendy's, White Castle and Donato's Pizza, among many others. National retailers continue to choose Columbus in their expansion plans, while local restaurants and retailers have received national recognition for their innovative concepts. Forbes has also recognized Columbus as the top city in the country for scaling startups.

The region's strategic location sets it apart from other growing metros. Comprised of 11 counties, Columbus is located within a 10-hour drive of nearly half of the U.S. population and is in a prime location or international dealings. The Columbus Region has the greatest reach to the U.S. and Canadian populations among all major logistics hubs.

With 52 colleges and universities, Columbus offers access to one of the highest concentrations of higher education in the country. There are 134,000 enrolled students and 22,000 annual graduates. The city has the 8th largest millennial concentration in the U.S., proving that it not only attracts talent, but retains it. Based on job opportunity, entertainment and a low cost of living, SmartAsset recently ranked Columbus the #1 city for college grads.
