ZONING ANALYSIS & FEASIBILITY STUDY

A by-right triplex designed for modern student living.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

This report evaluates the feasibility of demolishing the existing building at 735 17th St. and constructing a new triplex. The proposed project is designed to be a by-right project, with maximum density and parking, and to provide a 1:1 bed-to-bath ratio to increase rentability.

BY-RIGHT PROJECT

Designed to comply with City of Boulder requirements without discretionary review.

MAXIMIZE DENSITY

Optimize buildable area, number of dwelling units, and bedrooms.

1:1 BED TO BATH

Each bedroom has a private bathroom for maximum rentability.

MAXIMIZE PARKING

On-site parking accessed from the alley to the west (5-6 spaces currently).

SITE AT-A-GLANCE

Lot Size	10,915 SF
Topography	Site slopes down - 8' from the alley (west) to 17 th street (east)
Neighborhood	University Hill
Zoning District	RM-2

EXISTING BUILDING

One-story (walk-out basement) triplex built in 1952 (74 years old).

BUILDING AREA:

- 1,913 SF First Floor Finished Area
- 1,765 Walk-Out Basement Finished Area

DEMAND DEMOGRAPHICS

University Hill combines the country's most predictable rental demand with one of its most restricted supplies. Boulder's growth boundary and zoning have capped new construction for decades, while CU Boulder's enrollment keeps growing – leaving this submarket with consistent occupancy and durable pricing power year after year.
