Property Location

The Dublin Submarket

The Dublin submarket is located northwest of downtown Columbus with easy access to I-270, Route 33, and Route 161. It is a progressive, well-known, and well-educated city and is famous for its mix of attractive housing options, superior public education, popular business districts, and dynamic community and culture. Dublin is consistently ranked one of the safest cities and is one of the top-rated school districts in the area. The award-winning mixed-use neighborhood at Bridge Park further sets Dublin apart from other competitive suburbs around the city. Bridge Park offers top-notch dining, entertainment, and night life options, including The Pearl, Pins Mechanical, & Vaso.

Home To 4,300+ Businesses

Dublin, OH is home to over 20 corporate headquarters, including Fortune 15 Cardinal Health and The Wendy's Company. Other companies include Ohio Health, Sedgwick, and IGS. Dublin is consistently ranked Best Suburb for Business by Columbus CEO magazine readers.

The submarket also boasts a strong local economy that is driven by quality development, strategic planning, and incredible success in attracting and maintaining high-quality commercial development.

Local Events

In addition to excellent demographics and economy, Dublin, OH hosts several nationally recognized events. Dublin has been recognized as the Most Outstanding Global Festival and Event City in the World by the International Festivals and Events Association.

The annual Dublin Irish Festival attracts visitors from around the U.S., as well as internationally. The festival has strong community roots, dating back over 35 years. Over 100,000 attendees visit the 3-day festival each year.

Many people may also be familiar with Dublin, OH because of the annual Jack Nicklaus' PGA Tour Memorial Tournament at Muirfield Village Golf Club. The tournament draws thousands of visitors from across the country each year.
