Why Portland?

Nestled at the confluence of the Willamette and Columbia Rivers in northwestern Oregon lies the city of Portland, nicknamed the Rose City, The City of Roses, and “Beervana” because it has more micro-breweries inside the city limits than any other city in the world.

Once reliant on timber, fishing and agriculture, Portland’s diversified economy now includes technology, healthcare and education with a special emphasis on clean technology, advanced manufacturing, software and active wear. Fortune 1,000 companies Nike, Precision Castparts, Stancorp Financial Group, and Schnitzer Steel call Portland home. Providence, Legacy, and Kaiser support a combined 45,036 jobs, underscoring the importance of the healthcare industry to the Portland-Vancouver-Hillsboro MSA. And straddling the healthcare and education sectors is the Oregon Health & Science University (OHSU). With 19,136 employees and approximately 3,000 students, this nationally-renowned public university is one of the nation’s top biomedical research facilities.

- Office-using professional, technical, and business service jobs took the lead from high-tech manufacturing, as illustrated by software and systems design employment growing by 50% since 2011. This is quadruple the growth rate in tech manufacturing jobs.
- The cost of doing business in Portland, as relative to the rest of the country, is 91% of the U.S. 100% baseline.
- Home sales and values, population, job growth, and retail sales are all enjoying an upward trajectory.
- A growing inventory of creative Class A office space, mature and expanding home-grown tech companies, and an impressive in-migration of tech-centric firms, all herald an exciting future for Portland. Nearly one million square feet of creative office has been developed in Portland over the past few years.
