Westown District | Milwaukee

The West Side of Downtown Milwaukee is quickly becoming a hot spot for Milwaukee's booming entertainment industry. Home to the Deer District, Old World Third Street and historic venues like the Riverside Theater and Turner Hall Ballroom, Westown is a Milwaukee Neighborhood steeped in rich history. After Milwaukee became a City in 1846, Westown became the site of many public institutions such as the Courthouse and the Central Public Library, creating the heart of downtown. Over the decades, the neighborhood has grown in to a great mix of art, entertainment, business and public infrastructure, and is still expanding. With the recent revitalization of the Wisconsin Avenue corridor, developments have been made at Grand Avenue Mall, now the bustling 3rd Street Market Hall with various restaurants, bars and retail. Across the street, the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra boasts the new retrofitted Warner Grand Theater as their new home. Westown also borders Marquette University, who's campus mixes history with innovation. A local developer has announced plans for an 11-acre development on the South end of the campus, just to the west of I-94. Known as "The Iron District", the complex will include a professional outdoor soccer stadium with an 8,000 capacity, as well as an upscale hotel and new restaurants and retail – all of which will further bolster the already booming Westown Neighborhood while solidifying Milwaukee as a hub for sports and entertainment.
