An industrial business hub powered by people

Calgary offers a compelling environment for businesses looking to establish or expand an industrial base, combining strong regional connectivity with access to a growing and work-ready labour market. Population growth is complemented by high labour force participation and a strong concentration of workers in trades, transport, sales, and service occupations. With proximity to Calgary International Airport, major highway infrastructure, and established northeast industrial nodes, Airport Crossing is well positioned to support companies seeking efficient operations, scalable workforce access, and long-term business growth.
